The Training Committee is currently exploring options to cover more of the state with the training. If you would be interested in being a GIS instructor or have a GIS training facility, please contact me so we can work out the details. Other possibly alternatives include hosting webinars and holding seminars in which computer facilities would not be necessary. Lastly, I would like to thank the members serving on the Committee this year. Special thanks to the WV GIS Technical Center for assistance in creating and compiling the online training survey and publishing the results.

Thank you to all the Committee Members:

In order to communicate with our members, we utilized the WVAGP website, our e-mail list servers and online polls. This year we continued to update the website and published a Newsletter in the spring of 2017. The committee supported WVAGP training and meeting events by setting up the online registrations and making presentations on the Web accessible via SlideShare/WVGISTC/ WVAGP servers. The Committee also created and published online surveys for the 2014 Conference, training priorities, workshop topics, and feedback from the membership. In the future WVAGP will explore communicating with its membership by using Webinars, podcasts, and videos.

 In April 2017, the committee set up a booth at the GIS Day at the state capitol to help raise awareness of our group and attract new members. The committee also purchased a banner with the WVAGP logo for use at future events.
